Official Invitation to the Girls Human Rights Festival
2–10 February 2026 — London, United Kingdom

Dear Senator Dorinha Rezende,

It is my great pleasure to extend this formal invitation on behalf of the Girls Human Rights Hub (GHRH) for you to attend the Girls Human Rights Festival, taking place across London from 2–10 February 2026.

The Girls Human Rights Festival is an international, high-impact event dedicated to advancing the rights, dignity, safety, leadership, and empowerment of girls worldwide. It brings together global leaders, policymakers, human rights experts, civil society organisations, academic institutions, youth groups, and young women from across the world. Young people are at the centre of the Festival — as participants, speakers, activists, and emerging leaders.

Your commitment to gender equality in Brazil would make your presence invaluable. As we work to establish February as Girls' Human Rights Month, your participation would greatly strengthen the international visibility and support behind this global movement.

Core Festival Events (2–10 February 2026)

We would be delighted to have you join us at some or all of our planned events as our Distinguished Guest and Speaker. Each day, we will host approximately 100 participants

1. Young Lawyers Symposium

A gathering of aspiring young lawyers, law students, and early-career legal professionals, working alongside senior practitioners to explore legal reforms and justice pathways affecting girls globally.

2. Activists Bootcamp

A high-energy training programme for young activists and emerging leaders from different countries, equipping them with advocacy, campaigning, and leadership skills to advance girls' rights in their communities.

3. Leadership Summit

A multi-stakeholder summit uniting global leaders, youth representatives, and experts to discuss systems change, transformative leadership, and strengthening protective environments for girls.

4. Peace Negotiators' Conference

An international platform for established and emerging peacebuilders — including young women leaders — to examine girls' rights in conflict, peace processes, and post-conflict recovery.

5. Legally Empowered

A flagship event focused on access to justice, legal literacy, and legal empowerment for girls and young women, bringing together youth leaders, practitioners, and justice actors.

6. Girls Human Rights Awards Ceremony

An international awards event celebrating individuals and organisations who have made exceptional contributions to advancing girls' rights.

7. Human Rights Practitioners Conference

A major professional conference for human rights lawyers, NGOs, researchers, and justice system actors, with core sessions led by and involving young practitioners and youth advocates.

Special Launch Event: Global Initiatives for 2026

During the Festival, we will also host a major launch event featuring three of GHRH's most important global initiatives:

1. The Girls' Human Rights Act (GRA) – A model international legislative framework for the protection of girls.
2. The Global Girls' Rights Index (GGRI) – A real-time legal and lived-equality scorecard measuring the status of girls' rights across countries.
3. The Legal Empowerment Network (LEN) – A global network strengthening legal capacity, knowledge, and justice pathways for girls internationally.

This launch will serve as a milestone moment for global cooperation, visibility, and long-term structural change for girls' rights.

We would be honoured to welcome you to London and deeply value your participation at this historic global event. Should you require the full programme or any additional information, please do not hesitate to contact me directly.

Yours sincerely,

AGENDA

GIRLS HUMAN RIGHTS FESTIVAL 2nd-10th February 2026

Organised by Girls Human Rights Hub (www.ghrh.org)

Dear Speakers and Honoured Guests,

It is our great privilege to welcome you to the Girls Human Rights Festival 2026. We are deeply grateful for your presence and participation in this important global gathering taking place from 2–10 February.

Your leadership, expertise, and commitment to advancing the rights and wellbeing of girls worldwide bring immense value to this festival. Whether you are delivering a keynote, contributing to a panel, facilitating a workshop, or joining us as a distinguished guest, your voice plays a vital role in shaping the conversations and actions that will emerge from this week.

The Girls Human Rights Festival is dedicated to creating space for reflection, dialogue, and collaboration as we collectively work to ensure that every girl can live with dignity, safety, and equal opportunity. We are honoured that you have chosen to share your insights and stand in solidarity with this mission.

Thank you for lending your time, your experience, and your advocacy to this event. We look forward to learning from you and to the meaningful discussions and connections that will unfold throughout the festival.

With sincere appreciation,

Girls Human Rights Hub
